

The AP Solution SRS 0100 Unitized Snow Fence securement by Anchor Products is a complete snow retention system designed to be used with commercial roofing materials, giving building owners and contractors a reliable, engineered, and tested solution. The Unitized Snow Fence System utilizes U-Anchor™ 3000-S Series for superior strength and confidence when it comes to holding back snow on commercial roofing systems.

Each system is engineered specifically for your roof, and tested by third party engineers. Additionally, our system uses preflashed and prefabricated components, making installation significantly faster while providing a more consistent performance over field fabricated materials.

Our Unitized Snow Fence System is designed to handle extreme loads which allows for fewer attachments and reduced labor.
